

MICRO MATIC Closed Chemical Transfer System — 3-Key —

Micro Matic is the name brand when it comes to high-quality, closed transfer chemical systems and components. Their commitment to quality control has solidified the Micro Matic name as the standard in closed system chemical transferring. Why Micro Matic?

- The only proprietary keyed tamper evident container valve system that is closed, sealed & secured from fill to dispense.
- Closed systems ensure maximum product purity and security.
- Reliable stainless-steel construction ensures years of service life.
- Polypropylene/Nylon construction for more economical system options
- Closed systems protect workforce.

Micro Matic helps to provide solutions for cost-effective closed system chemical transferring by allowing end-users to distribute in three methods:

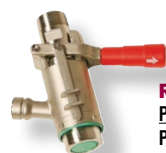

- 1) One Way: Fill > Transport > Dispense > Dispose/Recycle
- 2) Returnable: Fill > Transport > Dispense > Return & Refill
- 3) On-Site Refill: Fill > Transport > Dispense > On-Site Refill

In the closed system chemical transfer world, all Micro Matic valves and couplers are keyed with a 3-key design. This helps to differentiate and ensure products do not become inadvertently mixed with the Micro Matic DEF product line (4-key design). While Micro Matic has built its brand upon stainless steel constructed products, they do also offer polypropylene valves and couplers for a more economical option. Poly valves are quickly gaining traction in the DEF transfer industry.

It is important to note, that RSV stands for "Reusable Stainless Valve" and RPV stands for "Reusable Poly Valve".
